CHRIST CHURCH'S
LENTEN SERMON
"NO MAN CAN SERVE TWO MAS-TERS."
TEXT FROM ST. MATTHEW

Reverend John McKinney Preaches
Strong Sermon on Sunday Morning.

The text chosen by the Reverend John McKinney, rector of Christ's Church, Episcopal, for the Lenten sermon, was taken from the Gospel according to St. Matthew, the twenty-fourth verse of the sixth chapter:

"No man can serve two masters;
for either he will love the one,
and hate the other; or else he will love the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon."

From this portion of Christ's immortal sermon on the mount, so presented to the church, the Reverend McKinney drew the Lenten sermon, an able and convincing sermon on the folly and sin of endeavoring to serve two masters; of the certain failure that attends the attempt to live a true Christian life and at the same time enjoy the pleasures of the world, the flesh and the devil, in countenance of the everlasting truths enunciated by the great apostle:

"The great truths found in the sermon on the mount are fundamental, everlasting. They apply at all times, for all kinds of people. There are no involved meanings. They speak to the heart, not to the head.
Many have thought themselves wise that these laws. When they have followed the dictates of their own minds, settling their many standards above the divine law, they have made mistakes that have cost them dear, and are brought to the realization that the great laws apply to all men, all conditions and all times. They must go back two thousand years for the true standard of living.

"Were evil to come openly, armed as a knight of old, the fight would be easy. Then a man would know what he was fighting. But the devil does not work in that fashion. His courses are devious, his ways subtle.
He assumes many forms: a raging lion, a serpent, an angel of light. And all these bewildering temptations, there is but one means of salvation, and that is absolute loyalty and unwavering devotion to the laws of God. Even as a master demands loyalty as one of the attributes of a good servant, even so does the Lord demand it."

After his explanation of the unfavor-ability of the law stated in the text, the speaker went on to further explain its meaning and application, in discussing the temptations of the world, the flesh and the devil, many object to being held down by its stigmatizing limitations. They say that they live in the world, that they are but human beings, and that the devil is nothing but the temptation that arises in their own minds. In refuting these statements, the priest stated that although it was true that the wants of the flesh must be satisfied, eating should not be turned into gluttony, drinking into drunkenness or sleep into sloth. Neither should a man indulge in the pleasures of the world to an extent that might go beyond his powers of resistance. We are not put into the world for the mere satisfaction of our material wants, but for a higher purpose.

Perhaps the most interesting part of the sermon came in the discussion of the third of the trials of temptations, the devil, doubtless from the fact that a widely discussed play of that name will be presented this evening.
The opinion expressed by many,
that the devil is but an imaginary being, the temptations that arise in our minds, was emphatically denied by the minister. It is recorded, he said, that Christ was tempted, that the devil offered him the kingdoms of the earth, that he wrestled with him in the garden. How could it be the devil if he is who places the sinful thoughts in human minds, which Christ brands as sin in themselves. A man who has murder in his heart, but who lacks every opportunity of courage, is a murderer in the sight of the Lord.

It has been often asked why it was that Christ, who was a man, could not associate with the lowest forms of humanity, stained with every sort of crime, and still not a spot or blemish mar the stainless purity of his soul.
He was no hero. He did not fight the temptation of the flesh by running away from them, but was in very truth a man, but a perfect one. The explanation is simple. He allowed no thought of sin to enter his mind, there to grow and flourish until the time came when the evil action could be committed.

This example of Christ's inability to harbor evil, is also given as an argument to refute the claim of many parents who say that it is useless to let children join the church because their twelfth and sixteenth birthdays because they do not understand what they are doing. In reality, no chance should be neglected to instill religious truths in their minds, no matter how young they are, until they are so filled with good that they will respond instinctively only to what is good. Evil will have no power over them. They will not know what it is. Like a wireless telegraph, they will respond only to currents in their own plane, and if their instruction is properly carried out, this plane will be that of good only. Evil suggestions, like blasphemous heard on the street corner, like suggestive pictures in novels, will find no lodgment in his heart.
He responds only to the good in life.
In setting up Christ as his model, he will secure everlasting life.

THREE REASONS FOR HINDRANCE
ON THE ONWARD MOVEMENT OF CHRIST'S CHURCH.
KNOWLEDGE, DISSENSION
And Policy of Forcing Religion on Men Causes Them to Turn Away from Church, Says Rev. Hazen.

"Knowledge, dissension in the church, and trying to force Christianity on people is what has hindered the church's progress," said Rev. J. C.
Hazen in a sermon on Hindrance Christianity, preached at the Baptist church yesterday morning. The text was chosen from the fifth chapter of the book of the Galatians, the twenty-second through the twenty-sixth verses.

"Christ's work from the time of His birth up to the present day has had a marvelous growth. We may think perhaps that all Indians of His life and His work when we become interested in the subject we find that they have come through the efforts of Jesus Christ. If we realize this we say that Christ did not live in vain.

"When we again ponder on the privileges we have as individuals, we say that the church of Jesus Christ has had a wonderful influence over the world.

"We can also see the effect of this influence in the institutions of benevolence and charity which now are spread over the land. These are the direct results of the work of Jesus Christ, and we are again reminded that the feeling of love toward our fellowmen was brought about through Him.

"The work of Jesus and of the church He established has had a wonderful growth.

"We go along the streets of our town and see corruption and vice seemingly everywhere, and we say 'What a pity that the church has had a great growth.' Why is it that these things abound? We say, 'Why has the church not made more progress?'

"Think of all the good things in life and remember that each is the result of Jesus Christ's coming to earth and His teachings.

"Jesus has told us that our ears should be only for the present but we think not only of today, but of next week, next month and next year. We are driven back to the fact that the only home of the world and the church is in Jesus. Take him out of the church and the world and all hope is gone.

"How is it that this man has come to occupy the position that he holds in the church and the world? What is there about him after all that makes him so great. It is not his birth, for he was very humbly born.
It was not because he was wealthy, because he had no money, and it was not because he was learned because he was not an educated man.

"It was not because of His birth, nor His wealth nor any of these, that the people loved Jesus, but rather His great and noble character, which had no spot or blemish, and which had made men want to be like Him.

"A man's insight counts for a great deal in seeking for men for his cause. President-elect Taft has tried to choose men that look down into the depths of a problem and come to an honest conclusion. Jesus understands us and understands the problems that we grapple with.

"We have spent nineteen hundred years in the work since the coming of Christ and yet we look around us and see so many people far and near, who are not His followers. Why is it that they have not yet come to Christ?

"There may be two or three reasons. One thing and one that the church has stood for is the manner in which they get converts. They try to compel a man to become a member by threats of eternal punishment.
That way is not the strongest way of doing things and you do not develop the strongest character in that manner. You cannot compel the grass to grow, but by watering it and caring for it, with plenty of God's sunlight to shine upon it, it will flourish.
The same thing is true in life. The church has too often tried that compulsory method by saying to the man, 'If you don't reform and join the church, you'll go to the bottomless pit,' and the man has said, 'I'll go to the bottom.' If God thought that was the way to make his people love Him and follow Him, He would have organized a great army.
The kingdom of Jesus Christ too often has suffered by people being forced to our beliefs and creeds. Jesus was the most lovable and peaceable man in the world. He does not lead people into His kingdom unless they come His way, but He does not force them
to come.

"Do you know how badly it cripples or spoils a home because there is in it one member who misunderstands the principles of that home? You know what division is if you have seen that home where one member says, 'You cannot understand me and I cannot understand you, so I guess I will go.
Such a condition weakens a home and a like condition in a nation, such as is ours at the time of the Civil war, weakens it in the eyes of the world.
Too often the church has suffered by that same spirit, which causes division in the church. If there is a class of people that should stand together as one, it is the followers of Jesus Christ. For years the churches fought each other and it is a wonder that the church (the church) stood as perfect and strong as she did.
to come.

"Sometimes I think that Knowledge has stood in the way of Progress.
The book says that knowledge puff-eth up. Knowledge has become so large and so great in the minds of the leaders that it has put them up and led them away from the things of peace and love. Of what consequence is knowledge, if a man has kindness and joy in his heart?
Scholasticism and dogma have been standing in the way of the onward progress of the church.

"We could afford to lose out of the world all things but Christ and love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness and temperance. It will not make much difference about other things if we can just have these."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

more than one were not injured. The

INAUGURAL PLANS ON A BIG SCALE

Taft Is to Break an Old Precedent.

WILL USE HISTORIC BIBLE

He Declines Use of New Holy Books—Crowds Begin to Arrive in Washington for the Exercises on Thursday.

Washington, Mar. 1.—That one of the largest crowds on record will witness the inauguration of President Taft is indicated by the early arrivals. Washington is a place of the occasion and ready for the making of William H. Taft president on Thursday.

The advance guard of the unattached delegations began arriving yesterday at the vast Union station, where an augmented force of 125 special detectives recruited from practically every large city in the country, went on duty to prevent the ingress of pickpockets and other undesirable known to them.

With the arrival to-day of the New England coast artillery of Massachusetts, 800 strong, the influx of the organizations which will participate in the inaugural parade began. Other organizations arriving to-day are the Second division of the Rhode Island naval battalion of Newport, the New and-Then club of Salem, Mass., and the Saratoga club of Saratoga, N. Y.

Charles Nagel of St. Louis, who will be secretary of commerce and labor in the Taft cabinet, is the first of the new members of the official family to reach Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Nagel arrived yesterday and took apartments at the Arlington.

Roosevelt Issues Proclamation. The president and president-elect spent several hours in conference over the inaugural address. In accordance with the custom of the retiring president, Mr. Roosevelt has issued the following proclamation:

"Whereas, public interests require that the senate of the United States be convened at 12 o'clock on the fourth day of March next to receive such communications as may be made by the executive.

"Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim and declare that an extraordinary occasion requires the senate of the United States to convene at the capital, in the city of Washington, on the fourth day of March next, at 12 o'clock noon, of which all persons who shall at that time be entitled to act as members of that body are hereby required to take notice.

"Given under my hand and the seal of the United States at Washington, the twenty-seventh day of February in the year of our Lord 1909, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and thirty-third."

Will Use Historic Bible.

Taft will take the oath of office as president on the century-old Bible which belongs to the supreme court of the United States, and by it kept in sacred custody. There is a touch of sentiment in this decision which Mr. Taft announced last night with the statement that had he become a member of the supreme court his oath would have been taken on identically the same book.

During the last few days there have been many offers of Bibles to the prospective president. He has not declined to receive the gifts, but his answer has been that it will be impossible for him to receive them for the purpose intended.

Proceeding in another ancient inaugural detail is to be broken next Thursday in the intention of President Roosevelt to go from the inaugural ceremonies at the capitol direct to his train for Oyster Bay, and not return to the White House in the carriage with Mr. Taft.

In this event there will be a vacant seat in the presidential carriage on its return to the White House, and it is now proposed to have this seat occupied by Mrs. Taft. The decision, however, has not been made, but the subject is under consideration.

OLD BLIND MAN WINS BRIDE.

Col. Vallette, 86, Weds Miss Eleanor Anderson, Aged 25.

Long Beach, Cal., Mar. 1.—Much comment has been caused over the wedding of Miss Eleanor H. Anderson, 25 years old, and Col. Henry F. Vallette, aged 86, which took place secretly at the home of the aged bridegroom during the absence of his daughter and her husband.

It is said the daughter almost was overcome when she returned and learned of the marriage. The bride is from Chicago and had been engaged to read to Col. Vallette, who is blind. Col. Vallette was a lieutenant colonel of the One Hundred and Fifth Illinois volunteers in the civil war.

Prominent Iowa Republican Dead.

Iowa City, Ia., Mar. 1.—Gilbert H. Pray of Des Moines died in a hospital in this city yesterday. He was 61 years old and formerly a clerk of the Iowa supreme court and treasurer of the Republican state central committee.

Gossip Is Necessary.

Gossip responds to a human need, and gossip about dead men cannot hurt them. It clearly shows the stuff that reputations below a certain grade are made of. Many of the smaller glories owe their longevity to the laziness of the survivors. For who can afford to be painstaking about such trifles?—Frank Moore Colby.

MAYOR ROSE ISSUES DEFI.

Milwaukee Mayor Wants Walking Contest With Chicago Race Victors.

Chicago, Mar. 1.—A walking match between officials representing Chicago and Milwaukee will be the result of the contest Saturday night between the five local professional men, according to a telegram received at the Grand Pacific hotel last night from Mayor David S. Rose of Milwaukee. It reads: "I hereby challenge the winners of the walking race Saturday night—Albert J. Moore, the broker, and Dr. L. Blake Baldwin, city physician, to a match race between Leslie W. Hamilton and Charles E. Gavin of Milwaukee, time and place to be determined this week, for a purse of $200 a side."

Dr. Baldwin replied that the match would be welcomed, and that the same course, from Thirty-ninth street and Indiana avenue to the Grand Pacific Hotel, would please the challenger.

A representative of Mayor Rose will be in Chicago to-day or to-morrow to perfect the arrangements. It was announced last night.

PLAN LONG CANOE TRIP.

Wisconsin Men Going to Gulf of Mexico in Canvas Craft.

Madison, Wis., March 1.—Probably the longest salt water canoe trip on record will be taken by two Wisconsin men, Ben G. Fernald and Charles Tenney Jackson, who will start next week for New Orleans. They expect to travel about 3,000 miles by lake, sounds and rivers, from Lake Superior, La., to the Florida Keys, circumnavigating half the Gulf of Mexico. The trip will last about five months, all of which time will be spent either in a 15-foot canvas canoe or under the shade of an eight-pound silk tent. The little craft will be of ordinary draft and model, rigged for a lateen sail, and the equipment will be as light as possible. One of the queerest things about the unusual venture is that neither of the prospective canoeists had seen each other until they met at a dinner at the University club here last Thursday night.

CASTRO DENIES ASSASSIN PLOT. Late Venezuelan President Says He Did Not Conspire Against Gomez.

Dresden, Mar. 1.—Cipriano Castro, late president of Venezuela, Saturday authorized the publication of a declaration of his innocence of the charge that he had conspired to bring about the assassination of Juan Vicente Gomez, the present president of the republic.

"The only charge that has been raised against me," Senor Castro says, in a signed statement, "is that I tried to instigate the murder of Gomez. It is incredible that after having shown my interest in him in so many ways I should try to cause him to be murdered. If Gomez had given me occasion to suspect him I would have given orders regarding him before my departure from Venezuela, and I would not have been so stupid as to send such an order by cable."

Freezes to Death in Slough. Oskosh, Wis., Mar. 1.—James Willette, 35 years old, an employee of the Holton coal mine near this city, was found dead near his home, having perished from cold and exposure after falling in a mud hole in a slough. O'Brien, provides for 138 games, the season to open April 14 and close Sept. 27. It is the longest schedule yet adopted by the American association. For the first time in the history of the association the western clubs open in the west. As previously announced the season opens with St. Paul at Milwaukee, Columbus at Louisville, Toledo at Indianapolis and Kansas City at Kansas City.

Killed in an Auto Wreck.

New York, Mar. 1.—The snapping off of a rear wheel which sent an automobile, in which he was riding with a party of friends, tumbling down an embankment, last night caused the death of George Porter, superintendent of the Scott & McComb kennels at Kilmford, N. Y. The other occupants of the car escaped with bruises.

NEGRO CONFESSES HE MURDERED GIRL

Iowa Murderer Plotted Crime in Prison.

BOASTED TO HIS CELLMATE

John Junkin Who Killed Clara Rosen in Ottumwa Street Taken to Jail in Des Moines to Prevent a Lynching.

Des Moines, Ia., Mar. 1.—To prevent a lynching, John Junkin, negro, self-confessed murderer of Miss Clara Rosen in Ottumwa, has been brought from Albia to the jail in this city by Sheriff Griffin.

Junkin in a confession declared he had deliberately planned to commit the awful deed at Ottumwa while he was still an inmate of the Madison penitentiary serving time for robbing and beating a woman. It was his boast that he would again "do the trick" if given a chance. He boasted his ability to assault defenseless women. This information came in a letter from Albert Evans, a Missouri negro, who was a cellmate with Junkin at Fort Madison.

Cellmate Tells of Boast. "Junkin is guilty of that crime," writes the negro Evans. "He planned it while still in the penitentiary and when he left I know it was his intention to pull off the stunt as soon as he had an opportunity."

Evans' statement is given more weight on account of the fact that Junkin killed Miss Rosen just a few days after he had been liberated from Fort Madison prison. He was released Jan. 19 and Feb. 5 the crime was committed.

Junkin plans to stand trial and has made a request that Attorney Joe Brown, one of the best known negro lawyers in the state be sent to him for consultation.

"I was full of dope, I tell you, chuck full of it," he boasted as he tossed about on his narrow bunk in the St. Louis cage. He told the sheriff he had been chewing cocaine, but on the way to Des Moines he said he had been eating opium. Any attempt he may make along this line to secure a lighter sentence and escape the noose or a life sentence will be fought hard by the state on the claim that the crime was premeditated.

Evans to Be Witness. Albert Evans will be brought up from Missouri if necessary and the letter introduced together with his sworn statements on the stand. Since his incarceration in the county jail here Junkin has remained in his bunk, weeping almost all of the time.

Nothing satisfactory as to what prompted him to murder Miss Rosen when he claims he attacked her with the sole purpose of robbing could be gained from Junkin.

He received his first big scare when the Ottumwa mob visited the Albia jail. The fear that he would be lynched so preyed upon him that he would not stay alone and desired the sheriff or a guard to be constantly at his side.

The coming of the mob to Albia is responsible for Junkin's confession. He began Friday to make his admission and at that time implicated Weaver, another Ottumwa negro, in the affair and sought to place all blame on him. But before this time he had confessed his guilt to another negro at Albia.

Junkin will be given an immediate trial. The grand jury meets in Ottumwa Wednesday, the case will be submitted first and immediately upon the return of the indictment the trial will be called before Judge Roberts. Junkin will be kept in the jail here until that time. He is 27 years of age and has served numerous terms in prison.

BISHOP GILLESPIE IS ILL.

Venerable Head of West Michigan Diocese Near Death.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Mar. 1.—Rev. George D. Gillespie, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of western Michigan, is dangerously ill at his home here of general debility.

Rev. Gillespie is nearly 90 years old, and has been bishop of this diocese for 33 years. His condition last night was reported as slightly improved, but owing to his advanced age it is feared that he cannot recover.

Train Breaks Speed Marks.

It is a great thing to mix betimes with clever people. One picks their brains unconsciously.—Dwight Lytton.

DENIAL FOR MISS ROOSEVELT.

President's Daughter Not Engaged Says Secretary Loeb.

Washington, Mar. 1.—An emphatic denial of the report that the president's younger daughter, Miss Ethel, is engaged to marry Third Assistant Secretary of State William Phillips, was given out from the White House last night.

Secretary Loeb authorized the statement that Miss Roosevelt is not engaged to be married and he characterized as being without the slightest foundation a story from Boston to that effect.

"The report of Miss Roosevelt's engagement is a pure invention," said Mr. Loeb. "There is absolutely no truth in it and you can stamp it as false."

Mrs. John C. Phillips, mother of Mr. Phillips, said: "The report that Miss Roosevelt and Mr. Phillips are engaged to be married is absolutely without foundation and I want it emphatically denied."

PROFESSOR VOTES "WET."

Indiana Instructor Asked to Resign by Opponents of Liquor.

Richmond, Ind., March 1.—The resignation of W. N. Trueblood, professor of English at Earlham college, is demanded in resolutions passed by a meeting of the Friends church at Dublin, this county, because he voted "wet" in the recent local option election, which resulted in the defeat of the anti-alcohol faction.

Wayne county is the only one in Indiana that has yet gone "wet" in an option election. A quarterly meeting of the Friends church will be held in this city next Saturday. Twenty-five students, it is said, have declared that they would withdraw if Prof. Trueblood's resignation were asked. Earlham college is closely connected with the Friends church.

SAVED BY ODD TESTIMONY.

Banker Says He Was Compelled to Steal and Jury Acquits.

Nashville, Ark., Mar. 1.—A remarkable story of being forced at the point of a revolver to sign a contract to take $4,000 from the bank of Mineral Springs and to leave America with the money has been told in the Howard county circuit court here by C. R. Austin, cashier of the bank of Mineral Springs, alleged to be a defaulter and who admitted that he took the money, but claimed that the act was carried out under such circumstances as to rob it of any criminal intent. Austin was held to be not guilty of the charge at a late hour Saturday night by the jury.

Hoosier Brewers on Strike.

Terre Haute, Ind., Mar. 1.—Two hundred and fifty employees of the Terre Haute Brewing Company went out on a strike Saturday as a result of failure to come to an agreement on the terms of a new contract. Pastor Scores Roosevelt.

New York, Mar. 1.—"Thank God, the reign of Roosevelt is over!" said Rev. James A. O'Connor at Christ's mission, No. 331 West Fifty-seventh street, yesterday, and the members of the congregation applauded. "He dragged down the presidency to a low level with his vituperation and has made us blush with his Ananias club."

Finally Succeeds in Suicide.

St. Louis, Mar. 1.—The ninth attempt of Mrs. Elizabeth Lowery to end her life was successful yesterday. She drank carbolic acid because of despondency. In the last three years she drank poison six times, used the razor once, and tried to hang herself twice.

INSANITY CAUSED BY HAZING.

Oregon University Student Raving Maniac After a Ducking.

Portland, Ore., March 1.—Covering in a padded cell and shrieking with fear at the sight of a human face, Ralph Bristol slivers with fear at the sound of a step in the state insane asylum to which he has been committed as the result of being hazed by upper classmen at the state university.

Young Bristol was ducked in an icy bath tub and when he emerged from the frigid water his reason had fled. The boy lurches he is being pursued by devils who are perpetually stabbing him with icicles.

Fred V. Hoffman of Portland, who is chairman of the board of regents of the university, has called a meeting of the board to investigate this and other cases of hazing, and President P. L. Campbell of the university may lose his position as a consequence.

RUSH SHIPS TO HONDURAS.

State Department Officials Believe the Situation Is Serious.

Panama, Mar. 1.—The United States armored cruiser Pennsylvania and California sailed at noon yesterday for Ampana, the port of Honduras, without flashing the loading of supplies.

The two cruisers were ordered to remain there until relieved by the gunboat Yorktown. The Central American situation is reported serious.

Washington, Mar. 1.—The state department officials do not know what kind of military measures Nicaragua is taking, but they want to find out quickly, hence the orders to send two of the fleet ships in the navy to the Honduras port.

PREPARING FOR TAFT'S INAUGURATION.

By Walden Fawcett.

The men who are in charge of the preparation for the inauguration of William H. Taft as president of the United States declare very confidently that the pomp and magnificence of the pageant and ceremony will far surpass that accorded any previous chief magistrate. Some persons who have grown blasé through attendance at many such spectacles are wont to declare that all inaugurations are alike, but this has not been justified by such events in the past and certainly it would seem likely to be disproved by the novelties and innovations that will distinguish the big event of 1909.

One circumstance that would seem to augur for an especially elaborate ushering into office for William H. Taft is that the popular subscription for this year's event has resulted in the accumulation of a sum of money far in excess of that obtained on any previous similar occasion. Just here it may be well to explain that the citizens of Washington who play hosts to the incoming officials and the inaugural throng raise the money for America's greatest spectacle by popular subscription very much as funds are raised for world's fairs and other big events.

To be sure the Washington subscribers to this expense fund invariably get their money back after inauguration, for the thousands upon thousands of people who pay $5 each to attend that crowning glory, the inaugural ball roll up a fund that not only defrays the expenses of the ball itself, but reimburses the contributors to the general fund. Nevertheless this popular subscription is a very necessary adjunct to an end, for the inaugural ball admission fees are not in hand until close to March 4, whereas the spending of money on inauguration preparations begins months in advance.

As has been said, the money chest was especially filled this year, the whole amount collected approaching the $100,000 mark. The liberality shown was doubtless due to the confidence felt in the officials in charge of the 1909 show, particularly the chairman of the finance committee, Milton E. Allen, who was formerly assistant secretary of the treasury. The general chairman of the inauguration this year, E. J. Stellwagen, was also a happy choice for a most responsible position. He is one of the leading bankers at the national capital and accustomed to handling big proposals.

Chairman Stellwagen, of the Republican national committee, and future postmaster general, who has the sense to be "general manager" of the inauguration, came into contract with Mr. Stellwagen during the presidential campaign and the choice of the banker as inaugural chairman is supposed to be due to the connections thus formed.

Whereas the 1909 inauguration is to

PURE BLOOD

THE SECRET OF A GOOD COMPLEXION—HOW TO ATTAIN IT.

Sufferers are beginning to realize that external applications will not rid the skin of the disfigurements of eczema, pimples, blackheads, rashes, etc. The remedy must go deeper to the seat of the trouble—the blood.

And it is for this reason that the preparation known as Dr. Taylor's Remedy has been so successful, and has become so widely known and used.

This really great blood purifier absolutely destroys all the poisonous germs in the system, that cause skin blemishes. Its quick and thorough action, in even the worst cases of eczema, has surprised and delighted an enormous number of patients who had despaired of relief under the ordinary treatment of physicians and "so-called" remedies. The reason one of unflinching success, and in its use is surely found the secret of a clear, beautiful complexion.

An illustrated booklet describing the remedy will be mailed free by the Dr. Taylor Remedy Co., Philadelphia, and the remedy itself and booklet can be obtained at Smith Drug Co., and at all first-class druggists.

the president's where he will remain until the inauguration committee walks on him and escort him to the senate chamber. He will then occupy the seat reserved for him in front of the vice president's desk. The procedure in the case of the newly-elect vice president will be similar to that just described with the exception of the fact that he will, of course, be escorted to the vice president's room, there to await the opening of the proceedings in the senate chamber. Just before the adjournment of the present senate the oath of office will be administered to the new vice president by the president of the senate pro tempore. Then, after prayer by Edward Everett Hale, Vice President Sherman will deliver his inaugural address and administer the oath of office to those senators-elect whose terms begin on the same day.

After the organization of the senate is completed those assembled in the senate chamber will proceed in carefully prescribed order, through the rotunda of the capitol to the platform in the center portico of the capitol, this platform being arranged, this year, to seat 6,000 people. When all are assembled the oath of office will be administered to the president-elect, by the chief justice, or, in his absence, by the senior justice present. The president will then deliver his inaugural address. At the conclusion of the address the president is driven quickly to the White House and after a brief interval for lunch takes his place on the reviewing stand, facing Pennsylvania directly in front of the presidential mansion, to review the great parade.

President-elect Taft and the members of his family will arrive in Washington a few days before March 4, and instead of going to a hotel will become guests at the spacious mansion of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Boardman, located on Dupont circle, in the heart of the fashionable section of Washington. The Boardmans are among the closest personal friends of the Tafts and their daughter, Miss Mabel Boardman, was a member of Secretary Taft's round-the-world party, and has been actively identified with the Tafts in their Red Cross work. The president-elect is an enthusiastic convert to the use of the automobile, and in his journeyings about the capital incident to the inauguration, ceremonies he will make use of the luxurious Boardman motor car, which has been placed at his disposal for the occasion.

Tantalum Named by Discoverer.

It is said that Ekberg, the Swedish discoverer of tantalum, gave that name to the metal because of the tantalizing difficulties that he encountered while investigating it. It is only recently that tantalum has been obtained in a state of purity. A single pound of tantalum suffices to furnish 23,000 lamps, each of 25 candle power.

The Real Teacher.

I care not whether a man is called a tutor, an instructor, or a full professor, nor whether any academic degrees adorn his name; nor how many facts or symbols of facts he has stored away in his brain. If he has these four powers: clear sight, quick imagination, sound reason, and right, strong will, I call him an educated man, and fit to be a teacher.—Henry Van Dyke.

Was Not to Be Improved.

There is an antique anecdote, but one so much to the point that it will bear repetition, which throws a slight light on Mendelssohn's acute criticism. "A pupil confessed himself unable to solve a problem in counterpoint—did not know where to put another note. 'I am glad of that,' was the response, 'for neither do I.'"

Served His Country Well.

Scipio Africanus was one of the greatest soldiers, save Julius Caesar, in Roman history. He defeated Hannibal and his Carthaginians at Zama, a city of Carthage, on October 19, in the year 202 B. C., and gave to Rome the ascendancy over the then known world.

AFTER FOUR YEARS OF MISERY

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Baltimore, Md.—"For four years my life was a misery to me. I suffered from irregularities, terrible dragging sensations, extreme nervousness, and that all gone feeling in my stomach. I had given up hope of ever being well again. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. ## WILL NOT RECOVER FROM FATAL WOUND RECEIVED SUNDAY

Timothy Sullivan Shot Himself in Forehead at His Cottage at Lake Koshkonong.
In a moment of mental derangement, Timothy Sullivan, for many years manager of the Charley Bluff resort on Lake Koshkonong, shot himself in the forehead with a .25 revolver Sunday noon and is hanging between life and death, the end expected at any moment. He is a native of Ireland, his mother, Mrs. Sullivan, and his brothers, Thomas and Patrick, all of this city. Mrs. Pierce, with whom he has spent part of the winter while at the lake and Mrs. Jones and Dr. Hall of Milton are doing all in their power to alleviate the sufferings of the dying man.

Saturday Mr. Sullivan was in Janesville and invited several of his friends to come up for Sunday dinner at his cottage on Charley Bluff. Quite a party accepted his invitation, but it was not until Sunday morning that he was alone in the cottage. He was sitting at the table when he fired the fatal shot.

During the morning, Mr. Sullivan had seemed pleased with the prospects. He was, however, very nervous and it has since been learned that he has been suffering for two weeks past with pains in the head and that Mrs. Pierce cared for him on several occasions.

Leaving the table suddenly while the rest were out, he went to the bathroom and stepped into the adjoining room and a second later a shot was heard. One of the guests present stopped around the partition and saw him seated on a box. "Go back in there," he is reported to have said and a second later three other shots were heard.

Three of the bullets went wild but one found its mark in the forehead of the unfortunate man and he dropped back senseless. Dr. Hall of Milton was summoned and all that was possible was done to ease his suffering, but the wound was pronounced fatal and at three this afternoon he was reported barely alive.

Mr. Sullivan is one of the best known hunters and trappers in the Lake Koshkonong region and has made his home on the lake the better part of his life. Always genial and happy his untimely end will come as a shock to his many friends in the city who have enjoyed his hospitality.

BOY HURT WHILE HE PLAYED TAGS ON CARS

Carl Brocki Had Right Side of Face Badly Scratched Yesterday Afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon, Carl Brocki, a youth about fifteen years old, got the right side of his face badly scratched and injured, hurt his wrist and knee and received a bad shaking up. As it was he was lucky that he was not hurt worse than he was. Brocki, with a couple of companions, was playing tag on the tops of some of the box cars standing in the yards near the Fifth Point. In running from one car to another, he missed his footing and fell down between the cars. The ambulance was summoned as the young man was thought to be quite seriously injured but he refused to ride in it.

IF SUICIDE JOKE, WHO WAS IT ON?

Young Woman Named Merle Mills is Said to Have Figured in Dramatic Scene at Gus Baker's Home.

According to a story which reached the police today, a young woman named Merle Mills visited Gus Baker's residence on Magnolia avenue last evening and after adding for a glass of water started to take the contents of a phial supposed to contain carbolic acid. At this juncture, so the report runs, Mrs. Baker discovered her intention and knocked the bottle out of her hands. Whereupon it was learned that the small bottle contained only turpentine extract. Whether or not the dreadfully dived young woman's purpose and put up a joke on her, or who was trying to have some fun with the family does not appear.

GEORGE SALE DIED SATURDAY EVENING

Had Been in Deep Stupor Since Wednesday and End Came Peacefully and Without Pain.

To the attending physicians and nurses, the grief-stricken family, and sorrowing friends of George I. Sale it became evident early Saturday afternoon that his struggle against the ravages of pneumonia had become a hopeless one. The end came shortly after eight o'clock and it was serene and tranquil, with no evidence of suffering or pain.

The deceased was the only son of County Judge and Mrs. J. W. Sale and was born in this city October 9, 1872, and educated in the grade and high schools of Janesville, Beloit College, and the University of Wisconsin. He belonged to the Phi Kappa Psi Greek letter fraternity and the local lodge of Elks. For two years he was employed in the Madison office of J. Q. Emery, state superintendent of public instruction, and thereafter, in 1898, he became registrar in probate for Rock county.

The duties of that office he had discharged with ability and efficiency up to the time of his last illness and his attitude was ever courteous and obliging towards those who transacted business in the county court. This same kindly and helpful spirit was characteristic of him in all of his relations. Loyalty, integrity, and sincerity, indeed, were the dominating notes in his life. Though, by nature, modest and retiring, he was singularly frank and genuine. Yet he possessed no unfavorable criticisms on the conduct of others and seldom, if ever, chose to frame in words what might better have been left unsaid. There were times in his later life when he suffered from illness and bodily weakness, but he chose to walk alone, enduring his troubles without complaint and in the face of conviction, perhaps, that such man should keep his own counsel and let the sun shine.

Besides his father and mother, he is survived by a devoted wife, Mrs. Alice Rager Sale, to whom he was married on the 28th of June, 1905. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to all of them. County court has been adjourned until March 9. Funeral services will be held at the residence of Judge Sale at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

CHARGED WITH THE THEFT OF PELTS

William Bryce and Cornelius Cronin Were Hired Into Court Today—Adjournment to Tuesday.

District Attorney J. L. Fisher being confined to his home with a "jumping toothache," the examination of William Bryce and Cornelius Cronin, charged with the charge of stealing furs worth $27 from the store of Christopher Wright on South River street was this afternoon adjourned to tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, and a gallery which filled every seat in the courtroom was likewise adjourned. The bail set at $800 at the time of their arrest late Saturday afternoon was reduced to $500 and Cornelius Cronin, Sr., father of one of the youths and a resident of South Pearl street, expected to secure the necessary bonds.

Bryce is said to have made a confession that he helped take the furs and to have implicated Cronin, but the latter, while admitting that he was with Bryce at the time, denies that he had any part in the transaction. They were placed in Junk Dealer Wickard's, whose place of business is located on South Jackson street.

105 muskrat pelts valued at $25 and a wolfskin worth $2 constituted the booty. It is alleged that the pair entered Wright's store with a couple of empty water boxes. They waited until the store was closed and then they were acquainted, introduced Cronin as "Phineas" and stated that they intended to get samples of tobacco and pack them in the receptacles. During the conversation that ensued Mr. Wright was called to the front part of the store and paid no further attention to his visitors. Nor did he give any particular heed to them when they presently walked out with the boxes. When, in looking over the stock Saturday, he discovered his loss the incident was vividly recalled by him and he communicated his suspicions to the police.

Officer Champion arrested Bryce as he was crossing the Fifth Street at five o'clock in the afternoon and Officer Panning found Cronin on South River street about the same time.

Officer John Brown thinks that one of the pair closely resembles the man who offered a gun stolen from Green's tobacco warehouse for sale to C. B. Withington some weeks ago, and it is possible that an effort will be made to trace some connection on their part with other petty thefts that have been committed here of recent date.

CLASSES IN BOTANY INSPECTED NURSERY

Students Under Miss Armstrong's Charge Visited Kellogg's Nursery Watching Grafting.

Besides the regular class work and laboratory work of the botany and physical geography classes of the high school, field work and other interesting features are introduced during the year to give the class a more personal knowledge of the subjects. One of the annual affairs of the botany class is the annual expedition, generally up the river to study the flowers and plants as nature has made them and as they grow wild. Yesterday afternoon the botany classes and the teacher, Miss Armstrong, made a trip of inspection to the Kellogg nurseries to study grafting and other methods of propagation. One of the students in the class, Miss Loh Thorne, has written an account of the tour, published below:

"In order to obtain a practical knowledge of grafting as practiced by the horticulturist, the members of the botany class of the Janesville high school were taken on a trip to Kellogg's nursery Saturday, by their instructor, Miss Mary Armstrong. This nursery was established in 1854 by the father of the present proprietor, Geo. J. Kellogg, for many years one of the prominent horticulturists of this country. The nursery is now conducted by Mr. S. R. Kellogg, who gave the class an interesting and instructive lecture on grafting with a practical demonstration of the work. Mr. Kellogg has spent his life in this nursery, consequently possesses a wealth of knowledge in horticulture. His talk Saturday gave evidence of his enthusiasm in his work.

"Mr. Kellogg took us into the different departments or cellars used for carrying on grafting. He explained very carefully all the stages of grafting and gave us samples of the work. The first room he led us into was occupied by some of the employees who were inserting the scions into the stocks of plum trees. A scion is a twig which has been inserted in the root of another species of the same family. This is what is called cleft grafting. After the scions had been inserted they were tied together by means of a machine which winds the turns around the twigs. In binding the bud of one species is inserted under the bark of a branch of another species of the same family. The bark is replaced and the opening sealed with grafting wax. Budding must be done in the spring when the sap is running. The next cellar we passed into contained bundles of grafted twigs which were packed awaiting shipment in the spring.

"Leaving this building we entered another cellar where apple-trees to the number of eighteen thousand were planted in the earth and bunched together according to the year of growth and excellence of the trees. Another apartment had many thousands of plum-trees planted in the soil, the tops of which had been pruned off. There were also grape-vines planted here. In the spring from eighteen to twenty men will be employed in preparing trees for the market.

"Mr. Kellogg explained very carefully all the processes of both breeding and grafting. We saw a very profitable and interesting afternoon. Mr. Kellogg for his kindness in explaining grafting to us, thus showing one of the practical sides of botany. This trip has a successful application of the practical in educational work which is now considered so important in acquiring knowledge.

"The class were invited by Mr. Kellogg to return to see the work in the fields.
